

Bishops bike for burns

WHAT STARTED OUT as a fun ride by a few teachers at Bishops Preparatory School in Rondebosch, Cape Town, has blossomed into a major fund-raising success!

The teachers decided that they would ride in support of the Phoenix Burns Project and called for sponsorships from learners and parents at the school. The preparations were coordinated with Phoenix by Bishops teacher Mr Mark Erlangsen.

Each class in the school "adopted" a teacher to ride for them. Through donating pocket money, organising raffles and auctions, and raising funds from parents, classmates competed to see who could raise the most money for this cause – reaching a remarkable sum of R112 000 in a matter of just five weeks!

The four-day ride took place from 1-4 April and covered a distance of 300 km. The riders departed from the school at 09:00 on Friday, 1 April – holiday break-up day – in front of their learners.

Phoenix President, Dr Peter Martinez, and Phoenix's

Project Coordinator, May Bleeker-Phelan, were also present to witness the exciting send-off of the riders.

Their first destination was Betty's Bay. They then pushed on to Villiersdorp for their second night. The third day was the big test as they had to climb the Franschhoek Pass and Helshoogte Pass in order to get to Stellenbosch. Their final day brought them back to Cape Town and a well-earned rest.

Supporters could follow the progress of the riders on Phoenix's website and on Twitter and Facebook.

Proceeds from the bike tour will go towards Phoenix's initiatives that support child burn survivors and burns prevention efforts in the Western Cape.

Lulu Davis, a parent with two children at the school, said: "Bishops' enthusiasm for this kind of project is one of the reasons we love the school! I think it is a great cause and am happy to help in any way I can."

Well done Bishops! We salute you.

Biking for burns is going international: see page 2.

Phoenix at Indaba on fire and flood safety

SHACK FIRES AND FLOODS were the focus of a recent Catholic Welfare and Development-led crisis relief programme in Masiphumelele, a community near Kommetjie, where low-lying shacks are often flooded, and fires are a regular hazard amongst the close-built structures.

The Fire and Flood Prevention Safety Indaba event was held on 10 March at the Masiphumelele Community Hall and drew a crowd of around 200 community members.

Phoenix collaborated with other stakeholders such as the Cape Town Fire and Rescue Services, Paraffin Safety Association of South Africa, EzyLight, Ikhaya Lami, Eskom and PASSOP to address the most pressing safety issues experienced by residents in this particular community.

In addition to presentations on fire safety and prevention, safe use and storage of paraffin, burns prevention and first aid, stakeholders also discussed safer housing construction methods to reduce flooding and increase accessibility amongst dwellings for Fire and Rescue Services. Social topics such as safe use of alcohol and xenophobia were also touched upon.

The crowd was addressed by Alderman JP Smith, Mayoral Committee Member for Safety and Security, and David Gretton, Executive Support Officer to the Mayoral

Member for Economic Development & Tourism.

After the presentations, residents competed for prizes in a quiz. One lucky resident won an EzyLight solar lighting unit, designed for installation and use in informal settlements, as a safer alternative to flame-based lighting.

Blowing out the flame

EZYLIGHT, A COMPANY specialising in solar lighting solutions, have expanded their enterprise to include a community programme dubbed 'Blow Out the Flame'.

Waleed Waja, a director at EzyLight, said: "Our solution to the safety problems associated with open flame lighting sources in poor communities was to design a solar lighting unit that is lightweight, easy to install and use, and that offers an alternative to candles or paraffin lamps. One such unit can light a small three-bedroom dwelling, by means of LED lights, and an external solar panel."

The EzyLight 3 Plus solar unit is designed specifically for installation in informal settlements, and offers increased safety and savings on lighting by doing away with the need for candles, Paraffin lamps or any open flame device.

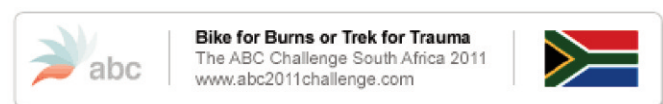

If you are interested in sponsoring such a unit for installation in an informal settlement, or supporting "Blow Out the Flame", please contact Hawa Hassan at 082 854 2366 or Waleed Waja at 0828542344 or visit www.ezylight.co.za

International bikers and hikers to come to SA to raise funds for Phoenix

A GROUP OF supporters of Phoenix in the UK is organising a Hike and Bike Challenge in October 2011. The event is being organised by Carolyn Cripps (OBE), Phoenix's representative in the UK, in conjunction with Cripps-Sears' Action for Burns and Children charitable fund in the UK.

The ABC Hike/Bike challenge offers participants a choice between a 6-day hike in the Cederberg mountains, or a 6-day bike tour through the Garden Route. The hikers and cyclists will converge in Cape Town, where the event will end with a fundraising Gala Dinner. Proceeds from the Hike and Bike event will go towards supporting child burn survivors and their families, via Phoenix Burns Project initiatives.

Hikers and cyclists from the UK will be flying to South Africa to participate in the challenge, and interest has been shown by potential participants from Europe, the Middle East and North America!

One such bicyclist from Europe is Arno van der Sanden, a resident of Eindhoven in the Netherlands. He is currently gearing up to participate in the ABC Hike/Bike challenge.

Arno has chosen to participate in the bike tour and is currently seeking sponsorship to attend. In support of Arno, Humecca, a Dutch-based company providing surgical equipment to the burns field, have kindly donated funds. Humecca have also been supportive of the Red Cross Children's Hospital Burns Unit in the past, having previously donated a dermatome to the Red Cross Burns Unit.

'Why I want to volunteer for Phoenix'

MY NAME IS Ferlyn Hendricks and I am a 39 year old male. I am from the Athlone area and I've been living there since I was born.

I have been burnt since I was four years of age, and for the past few years I've been consumed with thoughts of how I could be of help to other burn survivors and ultimately make a difference in their lives by being part of a support system.

I feel that I can help because through experience I have a clear understanding of the extent of their pain, rejection and heartache. The reason I am motivated to do this is because I know that it would make it easier for the parents to understand the magnitude of the pain their children are experiencing. It is of vital importance for parents to have a connection with what their children are going through daily and they are thus able to help their children to the best of their ability.

Coming into contact with the Phoenix Burns Project has truly been a blessing. A few months ago, my nephew gave me an edition of the Athlone News, a free local paper. I rarely read the Athlone News – I normally just read through the classifieds – but on that day I decided to read it. That's when I discovered the ad of the Phoenix Burns Project.

I was filled with joy and excitement because this is what I had been searching for, for a long time. I know that being involved with Phoenix is my purpose and calling which God has chosen me for, because I had been fervently praying for it.

I would like to thank May, the Phoenix coordinator, who is truly an "angel" and whose commitment is a great inspiration to me. My sincere desire is that more people get involved to better the lives of burned survivors.

FILL A TIN FOR CHANGE

YOUR SMALL CHANGE can make a big change in a burn survivor's life.

Through the generosity of DivFood, a division of Nampak, we have introduced collection tins as one of our fundraising activities. Please consider keeping a collection tin in your home to put all the small change cluttering up your purse or wallet. Every cent helps, and it all adds up!

Better still, why not support Phoenix by taking a carton of collection tins to distribute in your school, your office or among your friends?

If you would like to take a tin, please contact May on 082 932 9504.

After the fire

IMAGINE RETURNING HOME from work to find that all your possessions have been lost in a fire. This is a stark reality every year for hundreds of people who live in Cape Town's many informal settlements. Responding to the needs of some of those left with nothing after a fire, we are distributing Phoenix Fire Recovery Kits.

These kits come in a sturdy 100-litre plastic container filled with a large number of basic household items and basic foodstuffs.

Each Fire Recovery Kit costs approximately R3 500. Please support this by sponsoring a Fire Recovery Kit, or by inviting your school, church or work colleagues to contribute to one or more kits.

For further information, please e-mail admin@pbp.org.za or phone May Bleeker-Phelan on 082 932 9504.

Meet Phoenix's patron, the Archbishop

OUR SUPPORTERS WHO attended the fund-raiser organized by the Phoenix Burns Project last November had the first public opportunity to meet our new Patron, the Most Reverend Stephen Brislin, installed as the Catholic Archbishop of Cape Town in February 2010.

Those who did meet him, remarked how concerned and knowledgeable he was regarding the risks of fire in the townships.

The Archbishop is well known for his support of well-run lay initiatives that address social needs and support the Church's mission in the communities it serves.

Archbishop Brislin was born in Welkom on 24 September 1956, where he completed his schooling. He studied Philosophy at St John Vianney Seminary in Pretoria and Theology at the Missionary Institute in London. He was ordained a priest on 19 November 1983 and ordained Bishop of Kroonstad on 28 January 2007.

On the 7th of February 2010, the Solemnity of Our Lady of the Flight into Egypt, the patronal feast of the Archdiocese of Cape Town, he was installed as Archbishop of Cape Town, to succeed Archbishop Lawrence Henry, who has retired after reaching his 75th birthday.

Archbishop Brislin became the patron of Phoenix in March 2010.
